Four o'clock and all is well!

She may be miles away from her kitchen, but at the time she has selected, the clock on her automatic natural gas range starts her dinner cooking. At a set time heat will be turned off automatically.

Meantime, the automatic oven heat regulator keeps oven temperature constant. Even a delicate cake can be cooked perfectly in her absence. Insulation holds the heat in the oven so that less fuel is required for baking, and the kitchen stays cooler.

With all these advantages is the economy of natural gas. An entire meal can be cooked for as little as a quarter of a cent a person a meal.
See the new natural gas ranges in the display of your dealer or gas company, and look for the Blue Star Seal of the American Gas Association Testing Laboratory.
